Tractor Ride Honors Old Friend

By Laura Fedak Pedulli

A spectacle of shiny, colorful tractors enlivened the backroads of Rochester last Saturday, June 25. On that particularly gray and gloomy morning, about 28 tractors spent three hours humming along the country roads to the delight of local residents who looked on from the sidelines.

"It went very well... It looked like it was going to rain but it never did. Everyone seemed to enjoy it," said Slim (Conrad) Bernier.

The event took place to honor the late Joe Monteiro, a longtime friend of Mr. Bernier who shared a passion for antique tractors. The tractor pull took place near the five-year anniversary of his passing, but Mr. Bernier said that he hopes the memorial ride ignites a new tradition for many years to come.

From behind the tractors' steering wheels, riders young and old beamed as they enjoyed a slow-paced 14-mile long ride in town. The oldest tractor was a FARMALL 1930s model, which rode aside other tractors originally built in the 1940s and 1950s – along with newer models. "Most of [the riders] enjoyed it. It's a way of seeing the town because you are going so much slower. You recognize so many of the people [watching from the sidelines], and you learn where they live!" Mr. Bernier said.

The tractor ride was not considered a parade, as it did not close off roads but accommodated passing traffic. Some minor delays took place, but there were no major hold ups, Mr. Bernier said.

"Rochester is a great place for this type of ride. There was not much traffic at all. And we allowed space for cars to pass by," he said.

For locals who missed the event, the town parade is scheduled on Family Fun Day on Sunday, August 21. The "1960-Something" themed parade will include many of the tractors from the ride, Mr. Bernier said.

2011 Independence Day Activities

By Anne Kakley

Are you ready to celebrate your country's birthday? There are plenty of ways to enjoy your independence with your neighbors this weekend. Here is the annual Wanderer guide to Fourth of July activities in the Tri-Town and beyond.

- Marion Fireworks – Whew! It's been an on-again, off-again thing, but it's looking like Silvershell Beach will once again be home to Marion's favorite celebration. The fireworks are scheduled for July 1 at 9:15 pm – bring a chair and a light sweater in case it gets chilly out there.

This year was financially tight the town, which almost couldn't hold the fireworks due to lack of donations. If you are willing to help offset the cost of the fireworks, donations are being collected at Marion Town House. Make checks payable to the Town of Marion, 2 Spring Street, Marion, MA 02738. Please note that the donation is for the fireworks celebration.

- Marion Horse Show – The annual Marion Horse Show is designed to showcase riders from children to adults, of all ability. This casual show is fun for the Civil War Exhibit to Open

By Laura Fedak Pedulli

Every summer, the Mattapoisett Historical Museum opens its doors to engage the public with local artifacts that have survived through the decades to tell a story.

This year, the Mattapoisett Historical Museum summer exhibit is focusing on local life during the Civil War. A kick-off celebration will take place from 5:30 pm to 7:00 pm on Thursday, June 30 – with the new summer hours beginning on July 1 from 1:00 to 4:00 pm from Wednesday through Saturday.

The Mattapoisett Historical Museum's exhibit will include several items on display, including uniforms, swords, handcuffs, old pictures and newspaper clippings from the Civil War period, according to museum president Seth Mendell.

"We're not talking about much over 1,000 people," Mr. Mendell said of the population of Civil-war era Mattapoisett. He said about 150 years ago, the harbor was active with shipbuilding – in fact it was at its peak production – but it was soon after the Civil War that the whaling industry was on its demise. "A great source of income had evaporated... If it hadn't been for the influx of summer folk, who knows what would have happened to Mattapoisett," Mr. Mendell said.

Mattapoisett also faced a number of political changes that swept the local scene just prior to the Civil War. "There was activity going on by the village fathers to separate from Rochester. There had been a lot of political activity for some time, but it wasn't until 1857 that it was finally allowed, when it was documented in Plymouth," he said.

Mr. Mendell said that the first true Mattapoisett town meeting took place in 1857 at the Purrington Hall on present-day Water Street, which at the time had just newly been built. It was torn down decades later, Mr. Mendell said. (On a side note, Mr. Mendell is a descendent of the Purrington family). Also, Mr. Mendell described a time when present day Church Street was a center of activity as many churches – including the Baptist and Universal churches – dotted the street.

To supplement the exhibit, Mr. Mendell also will lecture on the life and times of Mattapoisett circa 1860 at the Mattapoisett Free Public Library on August 4.

The Clifford Ashley mural – a 6-by-16 chart of local waters painted in 1919 – was recently restored and also will be on display. A special event for the mural is scheduled for July 31.

The F1 Boston Championships, which took place in Braintree on June 18, is the destination of the fastest and most skilled premier kart racers in Massachusetts. The competition only invites the top six league scorers in each division, thus Mr. Villa was up against the best of the best in his grouping – which is based on age and vehicle-type.

"I was just relaxed. I was thinking in my head that I was going to win," Mr. Villa said. As a racer who thrives on speed, his kart can whip around the track at speeds up to 50 mph.

F1 Championships is a feat in it of itself. His mother, Terri Villa, said that he separated and fractured his shoulder after a crash during an earlier league competition, which nearly jeopardized his chances to compete this summer.

"There were still five or six laps left, but he held his arm in, and finished the race," Ms. Villa said, recalling an incident that was particularly hard to watch as a mother. The crash forced Mr. Villa to miss a few races, but even with those absences his other league performances still garnered high enough scores to qualify him for the championships.

Mr. Villa's love of racing began when his family frequented races at Stafford Motor Speedway in Connecticut. The youngster became intrigued, and he soon participated in racing school – a weeklong summer course at F1's Braintree track – to obtain his license. As an eight-year old, he began participating in seasonal leagues, learning how to drive on both indoor (equipped with tunnel) and outdoor tracks.

"F1 provides cars, which is nice. It's a great way to start without investing thousands and thousands of dollars," Ms. Villa said.

Now with two first-place championship trophies on his mantel, Mr. Villa is looking to take his game up a notch – by moving to larger cars and tracks.

"I want to race on bigger tracks, maybe Stafford [Motor Speedway] and Thompson [Speedway], which are in Connecticut," Mr. Villa said. He also is trying to convince his parents to buy him a car to race at Seekonk Speedway, which offers a youth racing division that begins at age 10. To participate, he would ride in faster cars that are miniature versions of the vehicles used in professional NASCAR races.

"With him moving to faster cars, it's probably going to do me in," joked his mother. Once Mr. Villa turns 14, he'll be eligible to race with NASCAR, she said.

Mr. Villa's father – Sherman Briggs – reflected on how the sport has impacted his son's life. "He's just grown so much from it. It teaches kids' responsibility... That's what keeps kids moving in the right direction," he said.

Lighthouse to Undergo Renovations

By Laura Fedak Pedulli

Mattapoisett's famous landmark, Ned's Point Lighthouse, soon will undergo a round of extensive renovations, according to volunteer keeper Bert Theriault of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 67.

The white and majestic 1838 lighthouse, which attracts visitors near and far to the northern tip of the Mattapoisett harbor, will be covered in scaffolding sometime in mid-July to accommodate the structural work. Mr. Theriault did not know how long the work would take, however he said the Coast Guard Auxiliary specifically will focus on restoring the tower of the 39-foot structure, he said.

"The skin on the outside will have to come off, as there are some cracks in the wall itself," Mr. Theriault said, who said plans have been pending for some time. Deck work improvements also "are in the works," although Mr. Theriault was not sure if they would take place during this round of renovations.

The volunteer keeper said that he sent photos of the lighthouse to the Engineering Division of the Coast Guard at Woods Hole earlier this year, and auxiliary members from the Portland, Maine unit would coordinate the work.

The upcoming renovations follow a series of improvements that the Coast Guard has undertaken for the lighthouse since it formally adopted the landmark in 1993. Auxiliary members renovated the lighthouse extensively in the mid 1990s, and again in the early 2000s.

The lighthouse originally was built thanks to Massachusetts Congressman and Former President John Quincy Adams, who encouraged Congress to appropriate $5,000 in 1837 for its construction. The structure first lighted the skies in March 1838.

Ned's Point lighthouse was decommissioned in 1952, and six years later everything except the tower was sold to the Town of Mattapoisett. Around that time, a park was developed around the lighthouse – which remains a favored destination spot today for its open green grass area well suited to kite flying and small beach. It wasn't until 1961 that the lighthouse became active again, thanks to a new plastic lens installed in 1961.

Tabor Salt Water Tanks Approved

Marion Conservation Commission

By Joan Hartnett-Barry

A meeting of the Marion Conservation Commission was held on Wednesday, June 22, and called to order at 7:00 pm by Chairman Joel D. Hartley. Also present were members Norman A. Hills, Wendy L. Carreau, Sherman Briggs and Secretary Diane R. Drake.

The first order of business was a Request for Determination by Thomas Clarke and Alison Hodges to rebuild the existing 28-by-40-foot wrap-around deck on new footings at 30 Beach Street. Mr. Clarke and Ms. Alison spoke to the board and said that the existing deck needed to be replaced and that new four-foot footing would be needed to support it. Existing bittersweet under the deck would be removed. "We'll have hurricane ties and all will be to code," said Mr. Clarke. The board approved the request.

The next appointment was a notice of intent by Joseph and Anne Silva to repair a septic system at 11 Giffords Corner Road. Alan Ewing of Alan Ewing Engineering and Mr. Silva spoke to the board. The applicant proposed to pump out the existing septic tank and replace it, on another part of the property with a new 1500-gallon tank and new leaching field. Several trees would have to be removed. The applicant has a July 19 hearing with the Board of Health regarding a variance for the setback of the leaching field. The board agreed to the proposal, contingent upon the Board of Health's approval of the variance.

The next appointment was for a Notice of Intent by 111 Allens Point Road Nominee Trust (Stephen and Deborah Bullerjahn, Trustees), to demolish and rebuild the north wing of the dwelling at 111 Allens Point Road and add a single-story addition to the south wing, and landscaping improvements. Kevin Forgue, GAF Engineering represented the applicant and said that the project would be done in three phases starting with the single story addition on the south side. The second phase involves the demolition of the north wing and building a new two-story addition. The third phase would be the landscaping improvements. Mr. Forgue said that there is a coastal bank on the property and that all work done will have no impact on the stability of the coastal bank. The board approved the project.

Up next was Tabor Academy, with a Notice of Intent to construct two 2,000 gallon salt water tanks, five inches in diameter by 13-feet tall, anchored to below-grade concrete footings, in a gravel parking area at the Marine Sciences Facility, 255 Front Street. Susan Nilson of CLE Engineering represented the applicant. After reviewing the plans, the board approved the project with three conditions, including moving the tanks five to ten feet further away from the wetland area and parallel to the salt marsh and that sheathing would be used to protect the wetland during construction. The board also required revised plans prior to construction and that the applicant provide an as-built plan after construction.

The next appointment, which was continued until August 10 at 7:30 pm was with Bay Watch Realty Trust's Notice of Intent to construct a 168-unit affordable housing complex under Chapter 40B with associated parking areas, on-site and off-site utility connections, storm water management infrastructure and related mitigation measures on Lots 27-29 off Front Street (Route 105).

It was noted that the Department of Environmental Protection had a site inspection planned for 10:00 am on Thursday, June 30 regarding the appeal of a Determination of Applicability for Toby and Barbara Burr regarding the determination of whether the site, located at 27 Pawkechatt Way, is subject to the jurisdiction of the Wetlands Protection Act.

Minutes of the June 8, 2011 meeting were approved with minor changes.

Without any additional business to come before the board, the committee adjourned at 8:22 pm.

Animal Advice

Jay Gould, DVM

Why should I bring my “inside only” cat to the vet? The cat is 10 years old, had all of its shots when it was young and seems fine.

Perhaps your cat is, in fact, fine but a second opinion by a vet is worth the cost of admission. Just as it is recommended that we humans have annual physicals to catch problems early the same is recommended for your dog, cat, bird, ferret, etc. Things that you may not notice about your cat are that it really is 5 pounds overweight and is prone to becoming a diabetic. Your cat may have painful dental disease which may make it seem older than his years and may contribute to kidney disease which will shorten his life. Your cat may have fleas, ear mites or some other parasitic problem that you may have just written off. Older cats frequently have overactive thyroid glands which may cause weight loss, heart problems, and high blood pressure. Remember that rabies shots are mandated by law for all cats and that they are only good for 1-3 years.

tion in a request from aquaculture applicant Jim O'Dowd to expedite the approval of a proposed water farm at a regular meeting on June 28, 2011.

In the appointment with Mr. O'Dowd, the Board convened in front of a crowded room to discuss a location change for his aquaculture application, which is currently on hold until the Marine Advisory Board (MAB) comes back with a list of viable aquaculture areas for Mattapoisett, as outlined in the Harbor Management Plan. At a previous meeting, the Board had decided to put a moratorium on aquaculture applications until aquaculture rules and regulations were drafted to streamline the application process.

As part of his appointment, Mr. O'Dowd approached the Board about the possibility of having the MAB prioritize Nasketucket Bay as an approved aquaculture area, so he could go forward with his altered project, slated for the backside of Nasketucket. According to Mr. O'Dowd, his new location proposal would adhere to the controversial "one-fathom rule" proposal, which could require new aquaculture farms to be located in water depths of at least six feet.

"Does anyone see any problems with that location?" Mr. O'Dowd asked the Board.

The Board members said that they would have to wait to receive the full outlined aquaculture areas from the MAB before they would be able to go forward with any application.

When asked to comment on Mr. O'Dowd's new proposed location, Selectman Tyler Macallister said, "The state of Massachusetts is your primary abutter, so you do have that... it has potential."

But Selectman Jordan Collyer remained steadfast in his decision to wait for a decision rendered from MAB. "Until that process is done, I wouldn't take any action," he said, refraining to comment on the proposed location change.

"This is only a preliminary approval," Mr. O'Dowd said, noting that he would still need to go forward with permits and state-level approval from the Division of Marine Fisheries before he would have to go before the Board of Selectmen again for final approval. "[I

"Until the rules are in place, I just can't render a decision," Selectman Collyer repeated. He said that the MAB was currently on track to render a final report in late August, and if Mr. O'Dowd's proposed location was included in the approved sites, they would be able to schedule public hearings at that time.

In an appointment with Allen Decker and Brendan Annett of the Coalition for Buzzard's Bay, the Board heard updates on land acquisition in the North Woods area of town. Funding for the acquisition had been approved and allocated from Community Preservation Act funds at the 2011 annual town meeting, and Mr. Decker projected that the town would be closing on the parcel in mid-July. The parcel has scenic vistas of the Mattapoisett River and will be open to recreational use, like trail walking, he said.

The Board voted to sign the purchase and sale agreement, and to accept the deed.

The Coalition representatives also gave an overview of a larger, long-term land acquisition project for the Nasketucket Bay area. Mr. Annett described the 400-acre parcel, which would encompass land in Mattapoisett and Fairhaven, as an "ambitious project" that would preserve farmland, double the size of the reservation, and provide an easement to the bike path. 263 of the acres would be located in Mattapoisett.

"It's $ 6 million," said Mr. Annett. "I think there is some sticker shock there," he admitted, but he said that the Coalition would seek to finance about half of the total from the federal government through grants from National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Additionally, they would seek money from the state park commission. Mr. Annett estimated that Mattapoisett would have to collaborate with Fairhaven to come up with a total of about $750,000 for their part in the land acquisition.

"We don't see that we can do it without cooperation from [Mattapoisett and Fairhaven]," said Mr. Annett, who asked the Board for a letter of support before going ahead to NOAA for consideration in the project. Since there is a lot of competition for the NOAA grant, Mr. Annett said that the Nasketucket application would have to rank high in NOAA's priorities for funding if they were going to proceed with an estimated land acquisition date of December 2013.

"I think it's a good idea," said Selectman Collyer. The Board voted to send a letter of support in favor of the conservation land acquisition. Mr. Annett noted that Fairhaven had also signed a letter of approval for the project.

Under action items, the Board:

- Granted a special one-day liquor license to the Mattapoisett Community Sailing Association, located at 18 Grand Avenue, for August 13 from 6:00 to 11:00 pm.
- Appointed Gerald Randall to the Agricultural Commission.
- Approved a two-week trailer's license for Gregory and Patricia Bartlett of Silver Shell Avenue.
- Approved a bond for fire truck financing.
- Appointed junior firefighters Hayden Vieira, Justin Szela and Evan Lomba.

At its Tuesday, June 28 meeting, the Rochester Planning Board fine-tuned a home occupancy bylaw – which delineates rules for a trade, profession or other occupation that is carried out in a dwelling – that the board is planning to put on the warrant of the next town meeting. The home business bylaw would remove current rules that essentially list which professions are allowed in private homes, and add new rules that apply across the board to all types of home-run businesses.

At the meeting, the board spent some time editing preliminary bylaw language. The board agreed to allow business-related accessory structures up to 1,000 square feet. Language that capped square footage at 675 feet for structures holding animals, and 875 square feet for guest homes, was removed so that all structures would follow the 1,000 square-foot rule.

Town Planner John Charbonneau suggested putting a limit on the percentage of square footage dedicated to an in-home business endeavor to 22 to 33 percent, although no consensus was reached on that matter.

The board also looked at rules governing roadside stands, which under the rules, must be 15 feet away from the side or lot line. Some confusion arose as to where the lot line begins, as a town typically owns the land 25 feet from the center of the road. Board member Susan Peterson noted that this distance would render many existing roadside stands out of compliance.

Roadside stands that are under 150 square feet would not require special permitting – and all accessory structures could not exceed height of principle structure without a special waiver. Any stand over 675 square feet would require Planning Board review, and no struc-

The board agreed not to put a limit on number of allowable hours of operation, or time of operation – but the board discussed requiring a minimum of three parking spots for retail operations.

In a separate discussion, board member Susan Peterson gave a brief presentation on Executive Order 525, which was enacted by Gov. Deval Patrick nine months ago, that require state agencies to review policies and actions to determine if they support the implementation of a corridor plan, which details plans for rail service form

"If Rochester is to be eligible for state money, our zoning plans should be consistent with the Corridor plan," Ms. Peterson said. She reviewed SRPPED's map of Rochester that is part of the corridor plan, which designates areas to preserve (Mattapoissett River Valley, Sippican River Valley, and the Former Airport area on Route 105) and areas suited for growth and mixed uses (the Town Center, Lower County Road, and the northeastern industrial zone).

Mr. Charbonneau said he would reach out to state agencies to learn about possible grant monies available for local projects. Board Member Gary Florindo floated the idea of acquiring funding to put in a water line along Kings Highway – which the board expressed interest in exploring.

In other business, the board voted to recommend that the Board of Selectmen not exercise its right of first refusal for a lot on 120 Hiller Road.

To the Editor:

At the regularly scheduled June 9 Board of Commissioners meeting, the Mattapoisett Housing Authority (MHA) declared that residents would not be permitted to open sliding glass doors. The maintenance man had started bolting the sliders shut from the outside until residents complained to the Fire Department and the Department of Housing and Community Development. The sliders have since been unbolted. But, residents are still not permitted to open sliders as has been the policy for decades.

Tenants open the sliders to vent hot air and circulate air in hallways. During summer months, temperatures reach 105 degrees (F) on the second floor with sliding glass doors open. With sliders shut, temperatures on the second floor could potentially get as hot as the inside of a car that has its windows rolled shut. Many tenants with heart and lung problems could suffer medical emergencies with the stifling heat. This is a health and safety issue.

When air handling units were installed a couple of years ago, the MHA executive director told residents that hallways would be kept at 70 degrees year round. This has not been the case during summer months, as these air handling units lack cooling coils. So, on scorching summer days, the hot air taken in through the air handling unit is distributed throughout the hot hallways. Essentially, it is a greenhouse without proper ventilation.

Another problem, with elderly smokers and only one door per apartment, there is an increased risk of second hand smoke seeping into hallways and staying there when apartment doors are opened. Second hand smoke, according to the Surgeon General, is dangerous for everyone, particularly people with breathing problems and heart conditions. Grandchildren who visit their grandparents should not be unwittingly exposed to second hand smoke.

Finally, the Mattapoisett Housing Authority is a 30-year-old wooden structure composed of long hallways that would act as horizontal chimneys should a fire break out. At least two fires caused by careless smoking are known to have occurred. It is time the Board of Commissioners and the executive director enact a no smoking policy in all parts of the building before we have an inferno. It is a no-brainer – all smokers should go outdoors. This policy should be strictly enforced – no exceptions. Smoking is not a right guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution. Smoking is detrimental to one's health and safety.

*Sincerely,
Sharon Duggan*

To the Editor:

This letter is to explain my reason for refusing a position on the Mattapoisett Housing Authority Board of Commissioners. I am a resident at Village Court. There was a vacancy on the board, and being a civic-minded individual and with the encouragement of tenants; I campaigned for the position. With many supporters, I ran a good honest strong campaign, but lost the most recent election.

Another opportunity came along with the recent resignation of a board member – the appointment would have been for a year. I submitted enthusiastically a letter for consideration at the tenant/board meeting of May 26, 2011. However, some disquieting events have since occurred causing me to reconsider my decision and withdraw my name for nomination to the board.

1. June 2, 2011 the bolting of the sliding glass doors from the outside of the maintenance department – clearly an illegal activity highlighting poor judgment. Although this activity was stopped, nevertheless, the board's attitude and mindset has given me pause.

2. At the June 9, 2011 tenant/board meeting, tenants were treated rudely and disrespectfully after presenting legitimate concerns regarding maintenance issues and sliding glass door issues. Tenants raised valid concerns about ventilation and soaring temperatures in hallways with sliding glass doors that were now ordered to be shut "immediately and permanently", and then, tenants were threatened with "eviction" should they have the temerity to open sliders on the second floor. Those sliding glass doors were installed to provide ventilation. Would a rational person sit in a car with the windows rolled shut on a hot summer day? Well that is what the temperatures will be like in Village Court hallways, and those are the temperatures the housing authority expects us to walk about in when going to the laundry room, retrieving mail, going out to do errands, and carrying groceries.

3. The potential to seriously harm tenants, the extremely poor judgment and the irrational behavior exhibited by the board of commissioners and its executive director, and the disrespect shown to tenants, have all helped me come to the conclusion reluctantly and regrettably that I can better serve the elderly by withdrawing my letter for appointment to the board.

I believe that working from the outside will be more effective, more efficient and more productive. Sweeping changes are clearly needed at the Mattapoissett Housing Authority, and by showing up at monthly board meetings, and acting in solidarity, tenants have the power to make positive changes.

To the Editor:

I met Joe (Monteiro) through a mutual friend who told me he was working on an antique tractor as I was. We then found that was not all we had in common. We had grown up almost as neighbors, and a special friendship grew from that. He had an amazing ability to take what someone thought was junk and make it a jewel. It didn't matter how long it took – he had the patience to work something until it was perfect. He loved nothing better than to share his knowledge with others, but also to learn from others. He was everybody's "best friend" and he would tell that until they realized what he was doing, but he meant it. He could make you laugh so hard, until your face hurt. He was a huge supporter of

Ned's Point Lighthouse Tours

Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 63 will open Ned's Point Lighthouse to the public free of charge on Thursday, July 7, from 10:00 am to noon.

It's important to note that, after July 7, the July Thursday openings from 10:00 am to noon will be very tentative because the U.S. Coast Guard has scheduled a major rehabilitation of the tower starting sometime in mid July and has notified Flotilla 63 that the lighthouse will be closed until the rehabilitation is complete.

Summerfest.

The 18th annual Swim Buzzard's Bay event is scheduled for July 2. Last year, a record 149 swimmers took part and raised $53,336 to support the Coalition's work.

The 1.2-mile course runs between Fort Phoenix State Beach in Fairhaven and Davy's Locker Beach in New Bedford. Three members of the Mattapoisett meeting, Alan and Jessica Harris of Marion and John Rider of South Dartmouth, will be joined by Amy Howland of Smith Neck Friends Meeting to form the Quaker Swim Team. All have participated in previous Swim Buzzards Bay events.

By swimming as a team this year, the group hopes that churches throughout the region will be encouraged in the future to field similar teams to support the grassroots organization. Because Mattapoisett Friends Meeting is so small, it is seeking community support for its efforts. Checks should be made out to the Coalition for Buzzards Bay and sent to Friends Meeting, PO Box 795, Mattapoisett, MA 02739 before the end of June. Donors are asked to write Quaker Swim Team on the memo line.

Bullies Revealed

By Anne Kakley

"That's how it is... That's why everyone relates to (Anne Frank). It's not because of Nazis, it's 'cause of the blankets on the windows. It's because everyone knows about feeling alone." – Turner

Anne Kakley
anne@wanderer.com

White, a student from The Revealers.

The Revealers by Doug Wilhelm, is the "all-read" summer reading selection for Junior High students at ORR this year. Each year, the all-read seeks to unify the school with an important theme, and this year is no different. Through this "all-read", the school seeks to shine a light on bullying.

Three students take a cyber-stance against bullying in The Revealers, using an in-school "KidNet" to study their individual bullying experiences, and document school bullying at large. Russell, Elliot and Catalina are unique, and likable, in their own ways. They compare themselves to herbivorous dinosaurs, constantly protecting themselves from mid-sized meat-eating dinosaurs (the mean, popular kids) with "slashing claws".

Elliot and Catalina are targets because of their transient "geekiness" – glasses, gangly physiques and bookish interests set them apart. Russell is a little more puzzled to find himself suddenly on the receiving end of bullying behavior. Although he has never engaged in bullying, he also seemed to avoid being a target until he talked back to a bully one day early in the seventh grade. Now, he seems to find himself the victim of a "tyranno" named Richie, who refuses to leave him alone.

When confrontations with their tormentors turn increasingly physical, and when complaints to school administration fall on deaf ears, Russell, Elliot and Catalina use Kid-Net to unite all of the kids who are suffering in silence. Together, the trio forms the "Bully Lab" to analyze bullying behavior. Their experiment leads to an underground newspaper called "The Darkland Revealers" (a pun on the name of their school, Parkland) and use their electronically distributed paper to share true stories about bullying. They find out – along with the student body – that bullying is a trial for the majority of students at some point. Through their efforts, they claim to reduce bullying at Parkland by "82 percent".

Russell, Elliot and Catalina learn the truth about their tormentors – that bullies feel just as isolated as their victims do, perhaps moreso, because – why would they resort to such cruel measures? This is where The Revealers starts to unravel this catchphrase called "bullying" – instead of outright vilifying the characters who bully, the story attempts to explain them. Richie, the boy who mercilessly torments Russell, is clearly abused by his father. But there is a shred of redemption there, and that redemption comes to light when Richie realizes he has a choice to not be a bully.

The Revealers appeals to every kid who has ever felt left out. Anyone who has been targeted by bullying will tell you it's a very isolating experience, but The Revealers reminds the reader that they aren't alone in that experience. Moreover, it shows that bullying doesn't have to be the norm – there are alternatives to suffering in silence.

Parents, read this book in tandem with your kids. The Revealers will surprise you with its candor, and it will throw you into the world in which kids are living today. If you thought that you survived bullying when you were a kid, well, the game has changed. Social networking has made it easier for kids to interact without supervision, and it has made it more difficult for children to escape their tormentors outside of school.

Thought-provoking, alarming and occasionally amusing, The Revealers is a great summer read that holds the power to evoke positive change. Don't limit this all-read to the junior high students – encourage your whole family to engage in this story.

MOVIE REVIEW

After School

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Bad Teacher. Starring Cameron Diaz and Justin Timberlake. Directed by Jake Kasdan. Running time: 92 minutes. MPAA rating: R.

The scariest movie news I've heard in recent years is that Lee Eisenberg and Gene Stupnitsky were said to be writing the script for Ghostbusters 3. These gentlemen have written fifteen episodes of The Office, and some of the better ones, too; but they have also written two of the most aridly, arrogantly unfunny "comedies" ever to see the light of a projector — 2009's ghastly Year One, and now Bad Teacher. I fear for Ghostbusters 3 (granted, a terrible idea to begin with). The men who wrote the instant-classic Office episode "Scott's Tots," perhaps the most exquisitely uncomfortable comedy segment in television history, are obviously not bums. But something seems to happen to their brains when they write a movie.

The one joke here is that Cameron Diaz, as the eponymous bad teacher, is foul-mouthed and shallow and couldn't care less about building young minds. In a way, it's a relief that the script doesn't go the usual route of Diaz having a change of heart and becoming a good teacher. But the movie offers nothing to replace the clichés. Diaz' character, who's in it only to get enough money for breast implants, spends half the movie trying to seduce substitute teacher Justin Timberlake, who she assumes has family money, and trying to ruin perky teacher Lucy Punch, whose crime appears to be competence in her job and the insight to know that Diaz is breaking moral, ethical and legal rules right and left.

For this, Punch's character is punished from beginning to end, first by being named Amy Squirrel, then by being cheated on, rubbing a poison-ivy-coated apple over her face, being arrested for possessing drugs that are actually Diaz', and finally getting transferred to another school district to teach at an urban rathole named after Malcolm X. That last bit is supposed to be funny, I guess: the perky little white teacher is being banished to what we presume is a predominantly black school, where terrible things are sure to happen to her. Because, you know, the kids are black. Does anyone involved with this movie even know any black people? If so, were said people shown the script, and if so, did that joke fly at all?

Sure, Diaz' character doesn't undergo some clichéd redemption, but she doesn't evolve in any other way, either. She pretty much stays shallow. Which would be fine if it were funny. As it is, the closest she has to an awakening is when gym teacher Jason Segal, who has his eye on her, points out that Timberlake is an airhead who will say anything he thinks his conversation partner will agree with. It's a weird time for the movie to come out in favor of intellectual integrity. As for Segal, his scenes with Diaz feel as though they were tacked on in reshoots. He doesn't really interact with anyone else (the "That's all the argument I need, Sean!" bit you've seen endlessly in the commercials could be lifted whole out of the film with no harm done, and all his other scenes with it), and he exists only to give Diaz a kinda-sorta happy ending.

Which she doesn't deserve. She deserves, as Punch's character rightly says, jail time. She has helped her class cheat on an important test so she can get a $5,000 check to put towards her implants. She drinks and gets high on school property. Again, this could all work if it were funny. Diaz, who slouches sullenly through the movie as if fulfilling a contractual obligation (or saving up for implants), is pitted against Lucy Punch, an unfair contest: Despite working with the same dreary script, Punch puts her whole physicality into the performance and ends up being infinitely more likable by comedic default. She'll be in better movies, I hope. As for Diaz, she should take a long hard look at Bridesmaids and see how a female-centered comedy is supposed to work. Being funny, for starters.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You feel ready to face up to a major change, although it might involve some risks. A once-dubious family member comes around and offers support and encouragement.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Move forward with your plans, despite discouraging words from those who underestimate the Bovine's strong will. Your keen instincts will guide you well.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A misunderstanding is easily cleared up. Then go ahead and enjoy some fun and games this week.

A Libra might have ideas that merit serious consideration for the future.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You might feel as if you're in an emotional pressure cooker, but the situation is about to change in your favor. Take time out for some well-earned fun.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A shift in your workplace responsibilities creates resentment among some co-workers. Deal with it before it becomes a threat to your success on the job.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Expect some surprises in what you thought was one of your typically well-planned schedules. Deal with them, and then enjoy some lighthearted entertainment.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Be careful: What appears to be a solid financial opportunity might have some hidden risks attached. A hazy personal matter needs to be cleared up.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) It's a good time to strengthen ties with family and friends. You might feel unsure about a recent workplace decision, but time will prove you did the right thing.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Just when you thought your relationship was comfortable and even predictable, your partner or spouse could spring a potentially life-changing surprise on you.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Your usually generous self is overshadowed by your equally strong suspicious nature. You might be judging things too harshly. Keep an open mind.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Love and romance dominate the week. Married Aquarians enjoy domestic harmony, while singles could soon be welcoming overtures from loving Leos.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) An old health problem recurs, but it is soon dealt with, leaving you eager to get back into the swing of things. A favorable travel period starts this week.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have an independent spirit that resists being told what to do. But you're also wise enough to appreciate good advice.

Tri-Town Early Childhood Program

The Tri-Town Early Childhood Program, located at Old Rochester Regional High School, is accepting applications for the 2011/2012 school year. A limited number of spaces are available. Applications will be accepted on a first come, first serve basis. The enrollment policy is based on a balance of three and four-year-olds, a balance of boys and girls, and a balance among residents of the three member towns.

The preschool program serves three and four-year-olds and follows the school calendar. It is unique in that it provides a high quality early childhood education opportunity to preschoolers, while also offering high school students a chance to learn about working in the field of early childhood education. A licensed early childhood teacher and a rotation of high school students staff the classroom.

Be a Part of the Road to Recovery

The American Cancer Society's Road to Recovery program is in great need of volunteers to drive local cancer patients to and from their life-saving medical appointments. An integral part of treating cancer successfully is making sure cancer patients receive their treatments, but many find making transportation arrangements is a challenge. The American Cancer Society provided more than 7,900 rides to cancer patients in Massachusetts last year, but needs new volunteer drivers to keep up with the demand for transportation.

"I decided to get involved with the American Cancer Society's Road to Recovery program because it seemed like a very simple way to be able make a difference, and it was just one hour a month," said Beth Riccitelli of Somerset who has been a driver for almost two years. "I was also newly retired and didn't mind driving, so Road to Recovery was the ideal way to meet new people. It really feels good to be able to provide transportation to a patient in need of a ride. You too can make a difference in the fight against cancer by becoming a driver for the American Cancer Society's Road to Recovery. Drivers use their own vehicle to drive patients to and from their treatments. The schedule for volunteers is flexible, treatment appointments take place weekdays, primarily during business hours. If you or someone you know is interested in becoming a volunteer driver for Road to Recovery, please contact your American Cancer Society at 1-800-227-2345 or visit Cancer.org.

Boys and Girls Club

Boys and Girls Clubs throughout Massachusetts are benefitting from a car donation program. Donated cars do not have to be functional – they only need a title. The cars are picked up and then sold at auction, and the funds generated are a helpful resource to the clubs. You can support your local club by donating your car. To donate your car or for more information, call 1-800-246-0493.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

Each time you find the Aardvark you will also be entered in our monthly drawing for other cool Aardvark Prizes.

If you would like to enter the monthly drawing by mail, send your name, address and phone number along with the issue date and page number you found him in to: Wanderer - I Found the Aardvark, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739. Entries by mail will not be eligible for Aardvark Points.

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and

In the June 23, 2011 issue the Aardvark was on page 62!
